Student reserves the right to appeal the penalty rendered by the professor to the Honor Board within ten business days. Students shall not be pressured into confessing guilt to any violation for any reason, including any implication by the professor that the Honor Board will render a harsher penalty than the professor and student have agreed upon. The student acknowledges that he/she is aware that he/she is eligible for a full Honor Board investigation, and has been made aware of the fact that a faculty adjudicated penalty is regarded as a violation of the Honor System equivalent to if the student confessed to the Honor Board directly, or was found in violation at an honor hearing.
